Dixon Bridge Up to Dixon Voters

COUNTY FATHERS
ASK DIXON FOLKS
TO SHOW DESIRESAsk if Dixon People Want
Bridge: If it is Needed

The board of supervisors at their closing session yesterday afternoon assumed a "show-me" attitude toward the city of Dixon with reference to the proposed Peoria avenue bridge project. Those who were leaders of the movement against the bridge appeared to have made further inquiries and much of their former opposition was appeased. As had been expected the bridge matter was permitted to lay over until the very last measure to come before the board before adjourning.

Two questions appeared to be present in the minds of the majority of members of the board as follows:

Do the people of Dixon want a bridge across Rock river?

Is a bridge across Rock river a necessity at this time?

With these two questions in mind it was the apparent opinion of the board that the petition of the city asking the county board for aid in the construction of the proposed bridge, was out of order or, "placing the cart before the horse" to use the term of Supervisor John Banks. The board members, however, were very fair in their final consideration after all of the heated argument and voted to table the petition of the city council until such time as the city furnishes the board with the necessary information sought on the above two questions.

Straw's Acts Approved

City Attorney E. E. Wingert was present and asked the board what the requirements consisted of. Supervisor D. H. Spencer replied that the city had failed to secure the vote of the people upon the improvement. The board voted unanimously to table the petition. The resolution asking the board to ratify the action of its Chairman Carl C. Straw, in his activities thus far in connection with the bridge matter was then presented and a lengthy debate ensued, after which the board voted unanimously ratifying his action.

The salary of a bovine tuberculosis veterinarian for the ensuing year stirred the ire of the several of the board members at the final session yesterday afternoon. The special bovine tuberculosis committee presented a resolution in which they asked an appropriation of $3,800 to be used as the salary of this officer. Supervisor James Buckley of Dixon was the first to voice his disapproval of the proposed appropriation and notified the board members that the sum was far in excess to the salary paid either the County Clerk or County Treasurer or other county officers who did a great deal more work, and that in his opinion a salary of $2,500 a year was amply sufficient.

Calls Testing Failure

Walter Ortigiesen, South Dixon supervisor, D. H. Spencer of Dixon, and John Banks of Compton lined up against the bovine tuberculosis program as practiced in Lee county and voiced their sentiments. Supervisor Ortigiesen declared in his talk before the board that, "the present system of testing as practiced in Lee county is a failure." The others objected to the amount of salary paid over the period during which Lee county has adopted the bovine tuberculosis test and the failure to bring the number of tests up to the required 75 percent, after which the tests may become compulsory.

Other members of the board defended the program and on the roll call eight of the supervisors cast their vote opposing the appropriation as follows: Burhen, Banks, Brucker, Spencer, Buckley, Ross Emmitt, Sandrock and Ortigiesen. The vote stood 14 to 8 in favor of the appropriation.

The county home committee presented a report recommending the building of a silo and cattle shed at the county home, which was adopted. The fees and salaries committee recommended the appropriation of $600 annually to be paid for clerk hire in the office of County Judge William L. Leach. Another report recommended an appropriation of $1,300 for the year to pay the salary and expenses of the county Trust Officer and Assistant Superintendent of Schools, both of which were adopted.

The road and bridge committee recommended the appropriation of a sum of $1,150 to be used as the county's share in the reconstruction of a bridge in Brooklyn township. The structure, which is now located on the right of way of the Meridian Highway, is to be moved to another section of the township.

ILLINOIS G. O. P. LEADERS IN ACCORD WITH COL. LOWDEN'S
DECISION TO QUIT CONTEST

Chicago, June 16. —(AP)—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden decided to withdraw his name as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination after a conference with supporters in the Illinois delegation.

It was thought Lowden alone determined that the party platform adopted by the Kansas City convention did not conform with his ideas on farm relief, and that the announcement was a complete surprise to the state's representatives there.

Most of the delegation, including Senator Charles S. Deneen, were unaware of the decision until Otis F. Glenn, of Murphysboro, announced it from the platform.

It since has become known that several of the Illinoisans, including Roy O. West, the National Committeeman; Mrs. R. H. Hanna McCormick; Clarence F. Buck of Monmouth and Louis L. Emmerson of Mt. Vernon, attended a conference in Mr. Lowden's Hotel suite, and there the former Governor's decision to withdraw was reached.

One of Lowden's unofficial advisers said the whole matter of Lowden's candidacy and its aims were gone over. The decision, he added, was reached after what was described as "calm deliberation."

Having made his decision, Mr. Lowden left the convention city without commenting on Hoover's nomination.

Railroad Sends
Auto Owner Bill;
Engine Damaged

Chicago, June 16. —(AP)—Tony Straber's warning to automobile owners is this: When driving your car into a railroad train be careful not to damage the locomotive.

Tony's car and a Grand Trunk train were involved in an argument over the right of way at Western Avenue near 140th Street last November. The automobile wound up in a ditch in a status described by wreck writers as "twisted wreckage." Tony unhurt, started to tell the engineer a few things, but the engineer got the conversational jump on him.

"Look where you're going," the engineer said, "and quit bumping into my engine. You haven't heard the last of this. I'm going to tell the manager."

Apparently he did tell. Yesterday Tony got a letter from the Grand Trunk railroad. It made no mention of his automobile, confining itself to the following succinct sentence:

"Enclosed please find bill for $29.18 for damage to our locomotive, number 6038."

HOME FOLKS GIVE
CURTIS WELCOME
RECEPTION FRIDAYVice Presidential Nominee Center of Big Topeka Jubilee

Topeka, Kans., June 16. —(AP)—Medicine made a half century ago by his Kaw Indian kin again has proved "good" for Senator Charles Curtis and today he rested at his home here after an enthusiastic celebration of his triumph at the Republican National Convention.

Surrounded by his friends, the Kansas Senator last night received the congratulations of thousands on his selection as running mate for Herbert Hoover. It was a welcome such as the Sunflower state reserves for illustrious native sons and it reflected the popularity the Republican vice presidential nominee has known in his many ventures since his aged Kaw grandmother, Julie Popplin, turned him from her tepee with the admonition:

"Go back to your white ancestors, my boy."

Accompanied by his son Harry, a Chicago attorney, the Senator arrived by automobile about two hours after he was nominated at Kansas City. As few knew of his arrival there was no reception committee waiting.

Waving to neighbors, who call him "Charlie," the Senator greeted his sister, Mrs. Rome Colvin, and expressed a desire to go "straight to bed." He did. The home was kept quiet until dinner was served by Mrs. Colvin.

Then the homecoming became more formal. Three patrolmen took up positions in front of the house to handle traffic.

With flag day decorations still in place, Curtis banners were added and the city soon had the appearance of having long waited his arrival. A speakers' stand was hastily built in the Capitol grounds and four speakers installed. Carpenters and electricians scarcely had completed their work before the trek to the Capitol began.

Mobilization of brass bands was completed soon after 7 o'clock and when the Senator arrived at 8 o'clock he was greeted by cameramen, who, after shooting several flash-light views, turned him over to Governor Ben S. Paulsen and others of the reception committee.

My main desire was to go straight to bed," the Senator said in a brief speech. "I have not had a night's sleep in the last five days, and though I spent those wakeful nights working for the presidential nomination, I was proud to accept the second place on the ticket when it was offered to me unsought."

"I am glad to be on the ticket with that able and experienced man, Herbert Hoover."

M. Lillard, Democratic attorney and master of ceremonies, then introduced Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, Governor Paulsen, Senator Joseph Steinberg of New York and others, all of whom paid tribute to the Senator.

Governor Paulsen said the Kansas delegation "was proud we made so much impression upon the delegates at the national convention that there was scarcely any opposition to Curtis' nomination for Vice President."

"When we carried our banners about convention hall Thursday night, people from all over the nation realized that the Republican ticket needed Curtis more than Curtis needed to be on the ticket," the Governor said.

The Senator's daughter, Mrs. Leona Curtis Knight, delegate from Rhode Island who attended her father's nomination, and his sister, Mrs. Edward Everett Oann of Washington, D. C., arrived during the reception and cheered with the crowd when Senator Curtis was introduced. Another daughter, Mrs. C. P. George, wife of an army officer at Fort Sill, Okla., also expressed her pleasure over her father's success.

TWO RESIDENCES
IN AMBOY ENTER-
ED FRIDAY NIGHT$100 in Money, $397
Draft Stolen in One of Homes

Two Amboy residences were entered during Friday night and clothing removed from bed rooms in which the residents were sleeping, according to reports reaching the Sheriff's office this morning. Both of the homes were located on Plant street just south of the Burlington tracks.

Deputies from the Sheriff's office were sent to Amboy this morning to conduct an investigation. The home of Frank Gillespie was thought to have been the first entered, and a pair of work trousers and a suit of underwear was taken from the bedroom in which Mr. Gillespie slept. Entrance is thought to have been gained through a front door which had been unlocked, and after taking the clothing, the sneak thief left through a rear screen door which he unfastened and left standing open. The underwear was found lying beside the front porch and the trousers in a neighbor's yard this morning. As far as is known nothing of value was taken.

Two doors north of the Gillespie home the sneak thief entered the home of George Bates, probably gaining entrance through a window. A suit of clothes lying on a chair in the bedroom in which Mr. and Mrs. Bates slept was taken, otherwise the house was not ransacked and nothing was disturbed. In the clothing was about $100 in money, a bank draft on a Lincoln, Ill., bank for $397 and a check for a small sum of money. While the deputies were conducting their investigation, the coat, trousers and vest were found lying beside a coal car on the Burlington switch track.

The pockets had been rifled, the draft and money being taken. A check for $25 cents was left in the bill book and a cheap watch and chain, bank books and papers and other articles were not taken. The officers were of the opinion that the sneak thief, who was in all probability a tramp, had entered both of the homes and was searching for money.

Weather is Again
Against Two Girls

Trappas, N. F., June 16. —(AP)—A delay of several days in the departure of the monoplane Friendship for Europe appeared probable today in the light of reports of unfavorable weather at sea. Pilot Wilmer Stultz said that it was impossible under these conditions to set a definite date for the hop to with his companions, Miss Amelia Earhart and Louis Gordon.

Harbor Grace, N. F., June 16. —(AP)—Tentative plans for a takeoff for Europe tomorrow morning were announced today by Oliver Le Boutillier, pilot of the monoplane Columbia. Le Boutillier, with Miss Mabel Boll and Arthur Argles, co-pilot, gave up any idea of flying today because of unfavorable weather reports from ships at sea.

Le Boutillier said that if conditions were right the start would be made tomorrow morning at 4:30 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

Girl Taken Ill on Highway Tho't Dead

The 15-year-old daughter of F. M. Wyles, automobile dealer of Morris, Ill., was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion Thursday afternoon while traveling south on route 2 with her father, enroute to their home in a new car. The young lady became unconscious and for a time was thought to be dead.

Mr. Wyles met Perry Rensburg of Amboy, state highway patrolman, working south of the city and told him that he feared that his daughter had expired and asked the patrolman to direct him to a physician. Mr. Rensburg brought them to Dixon and took them direct to a doctor's office, where the girl was examined and it was found that she was suffering from a severe attack of acute indigestion. She responded to treatment and was able to return home with her father about two hours later.

Former Rochelle
Mayor is Injured

Rochelle, June 15. —A. L. Foglio, former mayor of Rochelle, was painfully injured Thursday when his Ford coupe was struck by an oil truck while he was driving to the office of his local implement plant. The crash occurred at a street intersection.

Mr. Foglio's car was wrecked but the driver was able to return to his home after being given emergency treatment by a local physician. His condition is not regarded as serious.

"LITTLE POKER FACE" UNABLE TO PREVENT DEFEAT OF OUR
GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM ABROAD

Wimbledon, England, June 16. —(AP)—England today captured the Wightman Cup, signifying women's tennis team supremacy, by winning four out of seven matches from the United States.

The English gained the coveted trophy by dowing the American defenders in the final doubles match in which Mrs. M. Holcroft Watson and Miss Helen Bennett defeated Miss Helen Wills and Miss Penelope Anderson, 6-3, 6-1.

The English girls team triumphed after the Americans had staged a spectacular rally featuring singles victories by the two Californians, Miss Helen Wills and Miss Helen Jacobs, and drawn to even terms at three matches apiece.

In the deciding doubles encounter the British pair's perfect team play told and enabled them to race through the Americans' opposition in speedy fashion. Miss Bennett and Mrs. Watson recently won the hard court double championship of France and today proved themselves fully as good on turf.

This was the first time the English had beaten the Americans for the Wightman Cup since 1925, when they won out at Forest Hills by the same margin of four matches to three. The English victory today also tied the record in total victories won since the cup was placed in competition, each having now taken the cup three times—England in 1924, 1925 and 1928 and the United States in 1923, 1926 and 1927.

ILL. CANVASSING
BOARD NAMED IN
SHERIFF'S WRITThe Supreme Court Orders
Official to Serve it on Members

Springfield, Ill., June 16. —(AP)—After one failure to serve summons on the Governor, State Treasurer and Secretary of State, the Sheriff of Sangamon county was today directed by the Supreme Court to "try again." The alias summons are returnable June 20, the last day of the docket of the present term of court.

If the writs are served this time the state officers, who constitute the State Canvassing Board, will have to answer a mandamus action brought against them to show cause why the names of Harry Welsbrod and Lindstrand, candidates for the state Legislature from Cook county, were not certified by the board.

Welsbrod ran second and Oscar Lindstrand, third in their districts. Only one republican was to be nominated and in Lindstrand's two. The defeated candidates specially attack the authority of the district senatorial committee to fix the number of nominees and also make a general attack on the validity of the state Legislative Primary Act.

A crammed docket faced the Supreme Court today, with oral arguments scheduled on several criminal cases.

Argue Criminal Cases

Carl Earl and Bernie Shelton received a further setback today when the court denied, for the second time, their application for leave to file a petition of mandamus against Judge Harry Wright of Taylorville. Shelton attorneys seek to get into the supreme court through a mandamus action, an affidavit of Herbert Stultz, who he gave false testimony at the trial when they were convicted of bank robbery in Christian county. Attorneys for the Sheltons argued that the defense was denied a list of witnesses before and after arraignment because "the state knew that the defense could impeach practically the entire list."

William Scott Stewart, presented oral arguments on behalf of Amante Rongetti, who is sentenced to die in the electric chair for the death of a girl following an illegal operation.

Stewart declared the Cook County Criminal Court failed to grant the defense sufficient time to prepare its case, and also advanced the case on the docket, thereby preventing several important witnesses from testifying.

Both cases, it is expected, will be taken under advisement to the October term of court.

$1,700 PAYROLL ROBBERY

Chicago, June 16. —(AP)—The paymaster and chauffeur of the Theatre-Duffield Fireworks Company were kidnapped and robbed of $1,200 of a $1,700 payroll by three armed bandits today. The company's plant at Robey, Ind. Employing pursuers, the robbers sped north into Chicago and crashed into a telephone pole. They crawled from the wreckage and escaped, leaving their two victims pinned under the overturned car. A alarm was turned in immediately by witnesses of the holdup, and squads of police quickly surrounded the area where the bandit car was wrecked. It was believed the men were hiding near the scene.

INVESTIGATING THREE DEATHS

Star, Okla., June 16. —(AP)—The apparent slaughter of a family of three and subsequent burning of the bodies are being investigated here today in a court of inquiry conducted by Ben Bailey, County Attorney of Haskell county.

The charred bodies of Dan Stella, his wife and their infant daughter, were found in the ruins of their home last week. Henry McIntosh, former husband of Mrs. Stella, was arrested last night as the result of investigations of county officers.

People in Dixon and vicinity are noted for their early gardens, both vegetable and flower. Sam Williams, who lives on Lord's Hill surprised his friends the other evening by announcing that sweet peas were in blossom in his garden. Mrs. Prescott Clark announced this morning that yesterday they enjoyed new potatoes which were grown in their own garden.

EX-DIXONITE KILLED

ATTEND PEONY SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hey, Mrs. Hartwell and Mrs. Lee Lambert, all of whom are especially interested in the growing of peonies, motored to Twin Elms near Rockford yesterday and attended the second annual peony show. G. J. Boehland, owner of the Twin Elms Gardens, proved a most interesting and an ardent peony host and the electric lighted pavilion in which the exhibit was held was made immaculate in its whiteness with here and there a vine or twig to relieve the bareness. Besides the masses of peonies in baskets and vases were hundreds of named specimens in large bottles and among these could be found many much lauded and high priced varieties as President Taft, Francis Willard, Cherry Hill, LaRonde, Theresa and many others.

Worthy of special mention was a section devoted entirely to seedlings grown at Twin Elms. Many of these were very beautiful. A stroll over the park-like grounds surrounding the lovely residence was immensely enjoyed.

Returning to Dixon, the party visited the third annual flower show at the coliseum at Oregon. This show was surely a marvel of beauty. It is sponsored by the Garden Club of Oregon. The Woman's Club of Dixon had been especially invited and many of its members were also in attendance.

MAY SAVE VISION

Bruce Hancock, three-year-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Hancock of Polo, will not lose his left eye, the attending physician stated today. The little fellow looked into a tin can in which a firecracker had been placed a few days ago, while playing with other children and when the cracker exploded it was thought that it would be necessary to remove the left eye ball. The sight is not entirely lost, the physician stated and the eye will not be removed, as it is getting along nicely.

TOLL STATION ROBBED

M'NARY CONFERS
WITH NOMINEE:
HE'S SATISFIED
Says He Found Hoover
Sympathetic With Farmers' Needs

Washington, June 16. —(AP)—Senator McNary, republican of Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill vetoed by President Coolidge, conferred with Secretary Hoover, republican, presidential nominee today. McNary after the conference said he found Secretary Hoover "sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of our farm population."

A statement issued by the Oregon Senator after the conference was accepted as indicating he was willing to abandon the equalization fee of the farm relief bill.

"In my judgment, the enactment of the bill that passed that last session of Congress with the omission of the equalization fee would improve the condition of agriculture," McNary said. "At least it would supply the basis upon which helpful legislation could be fashioned."

McNary said if the remedy was tried and found to be ineffective in his opinion Congress and the administration would unite in an effort to devise a more effective remedy that would prove sound.

"In the absence of the President, whom I believe to be in accord, I have discussed the subject with the Republican nominee, Herbert Hoover, and found him sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of our farm population, and I bespeak for 7,000,000 farmers and their able leaders the same fine offer of assistance and consideration to the end that farm relief legislation may be enacted and approved at the next session of Congress."

Secretary Hoover had nothing to say regarding his fifteen minute interview with the Senator, who was the only caller this morning. McNary's statement said:

McNary's statement.

"The agricultural plank in the Republican platform commits the party to the enactment of legislation that will place agriculture on a basis of economic equality with industry. The party must keep this pledge and I have ample confidence it will."

"Honest differences of opinion have prevented a correction of the situation and the application of an appropriate and effective remedy. On two occasions a great majority of the members of the Congress have expressed their belief that the solution of the problem lies in the creation of a Federal Farm Board, supplied with sufficient funds and ample powers to aid in the control and disposition of the surpluses of agricultural commodities, and if in so doing a loss occurred, it would be absorbed through the application of an equalization fee upon the producers receiving the benefits of the legislation."

"I still believe in the fairness and soundness of that plan. The President thought otherwise."

Necessity Exists

"However, the necessity for some measure of relief is so imperative as to warrant the suggestion that differences of opinion must be composed and a common ground found for successful Congressional action. If my judgment of the enactment of the bill that passed the last session of the Congress with the omission of the equalization fee would improve the condition of agriculture."

"In a word, the plan contemplates the creation of a Federal Farm Board, abundantly financed to make loans to cooperative associations and farmer control stabilization corporations for the purpose of preventing violent price fluctuations and of controlling agricultural surpluses through the process of orderly marketing."

"In the absence of the President, whom I believe to be in accord, I have discussed the subject with the Republican nominee, Mr. Herbert Hoover, and found him sympathetic and anxious to relieve the distress of our farm population, and I bespeak for 7,000,000 farmers and their able leaders the same fine offer of assistance and consideration to the end that farm relief legislation may be enacted and approved at the next session of the Congress."

CAN CUT COAL RATES

Washington, June 16. —(AP)—Permissive was given the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad today to make reductions on lake cargo coal from its lines in northern territory equivalent to those made by other northern railroads, effective within ten days and without the usual 30 day requirement of posting of new schedules. HUNDREDS DRIVEN
FROM HOMES WHEN
LEVEES GIVE WAYArkansas and Missouri
Cities Report Big Flood Damage

Newport, Ark., June 16. —(AP)—Flood waters of the White river today spread out fan-like over approximately 40,000 acres of land some of it newly cultivated and the 800 residents of the valley in the lower parts of Jackson county were camped in improvised homes on higher ground.

The main levee at Stephens, 12 miles south of Newport crashed last night, but a warning, broadcast 24 hours previously, enabled farmers' tenants to escape with their livestock. The only loss reported today was to crops.

After the break, Lieut. L. B. Washburn of the U. S. Engineers' office at Memphis took 200 men and cut a new gap in the dike a short distance north of Stephens to lessen the pressure on the lower levees.

Nearly 600,000 acres in the White River valley were flooded today and thousands more were being inundated gradually by the water released last night when the Stevies levee near here broke.

More than 700 families were homeless, many being cared for by the Red Cross.

The levee collapsed while 300 men were working frantically to save it. The river had reached its crest and it was believed the greatest danger had passed when, without warning, the laborers abandoned their equipment and fled, some of them narrowly escaping death.

Families whose homes were in the flood's path were prepared and moved to higher ground without loss of life.

An hour later, the levee a mile north of the break was cut to lessen pressure on a long stretch of the crumbling walls.

The villages of Auvergne, Shoffner, Weldon and Tupelo, in the flood's path, were practically deserted today. Efforts were being made to keep floodroads open, although the Rock Island into Newport had already surrendered.

MISSOURI IS HIT

Kennett, Mo., June 16. —(AP)—A desperate fight for homes and crops was lost early today when the St. Francis river levee six miles northwest of here gave way spreading waste and destruction over a five mile area. Hundreds of families have been driven from their homes.

Weakened by seepage which persisted in spite of anything that could be done by the 3,000 farmers, professional and businessmen who labored on into the night, the levee wall crashed at 1:30 this morning. The crevasse, 150 feet wide at the start, had increased to 300 feet by 8 o'clock.

Two score workmen who were on the dike at the time it went out were warned as the dirt began to move, and had fled to safety as the wall they were strengthening swept inward before the pressure of the crest of the flooded river.

A Proclamation Every Man

Mayor of Kennett early today asking all business houses to close and requesting that all available men be sent to strengthen the levee in anticipation of the third rise, which is expected to reach its highest proportions Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Authorities believe the crest of this flood will be a foot and a half higher than the one which swept the levee aside this morning.

Along the river north to Campbell workmen were making a strenuous effort to strengthen the weakened walls to prevent a further inundation of the adjacent farm lands.

MARY'S TRUNKS HELD

New York, June 16. —(AP)—Customs officials ordered held for further examination twelve trunks full of gowns and other clothing belonging to Mary Pickford, screen star, who arrived with her husband, Douglas Fairbanks today aboard the Italian liner Roma. Miss Pickford said in the log figures in her declaration were due to the fact that she had received special prices from Italian merchants. The customs officials, however, ruled that if these prices were greatly lowered than the same articles would have cost in the United States, the actress would be called upon to pay more duty.

Sting of Bees was Fatal to Aledo Man

Aledo, Ill., June 16. —(AP)—While helping his employer house a swarm of bees on a farm near here yesterday afternoon James A. Johnson, 43, was stung on the wrist and the back of his neck and died within 15 minutes. Death followed violent vomiting and convulsions.

there may have many doubters, the fact that he knew Gly-Cas better than anybody else is being proven in numerous cases throughout this city now. For instance, a few days ago, Mrs. Esther Carlson, 418 W. First St., Dixon, said:

"In my opinion there is no medicine that can even compare with your Gly-Cas. At the time I first read about Gly-Cas I was bedridden with lumbago and rheumatism. It is the truth that I could not move from one side of the bed to the other—could not raise myself without assistance, either. The pain in my back was almost unbearable. I admit that at first I was skeptical about the merit of this Gly-Cas because I had seemingly tried every known medicine without any benefit. Finally, however, I decided to give Gly-Cas a trial and, before the first box was all used I was actually out of bed and able to get around slowly. Naturally I kept on with Gly-Cas and after using several more boxes the awful lumbago and rheumatism condition entirely left me. No more do I have those former piercing, knife-like pains and further, I am now in a better state of health than I've been for years. I have derived simply remarkable benefits from Gly-Cas and I advise anyone to give this medicine a trial."

The Gly-Cas Man is at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon, and is daily meeting the public and explaining this new vegetable preparation.

RAINS KEEPING PRESIDENT AND WIFE INACTIVE

Chief Executive is Unable to go Fishing Again Today

Superior, Wis., June 16—(AP)—Faced by a steady downpour of rain in Superior while at his lodge 33 miles away the sun was shining brightly, President Coolidge decided early today to postpone his first call at the executive offices until later in the day.

The deep waters of the Brule, babbling around Cedar Island Lodge, called him instead to try his luck with the rod and reel. Apparently satisfied with his first fishing experience yesterday Mr. Coolidge ordered his fishing tackle brought out while he took a long walk through the estate familiarizing himself thoroughly with it's layout.

First Lady Rests.

Both he and Mrs. Coolidge were reported as having passed a very restful first night at the summer residence after a long evening quietly spent by a big log fire. Mrs. Coolidge, although suffering no ill effects from the long journey from Washington, decided to take her morning easily and, although dressed, lay down again in the porch of the residence enjoying the cool breeze sweeping off Lake Superior.

Mr. Coolidge was up very early today. Accompanied by an aide he tramped through some of the trails leading from the cleared space around the lodge into the virgin wilderness surrounding it.

He had occasion to observe the wild deer on the estate, which unmolested for so long, showed almost no fear of man. These are so numerous on the estate that they swarm in herds through the woods invading and walking unconcerned among the tents of the company of infantry camped on the edge of the presidential reservation.

Did He Get Any Fish?

Although President Coolidge expressed his intention this morning of fishing again today, no definite indication came out of the summer White House as to whether he was successful in his quest for fish yesterday afternoon. While some witnesses claimed he caught some fish, others said they understood he had not hooked any. Even those who claimed success for Mr. Coolidge, however, could not give details as to the size and kind of fish caught.

President and Mrs. Coolidge have not yet decided at which of the two churches available to them they will worship tomorrow. A white-washed frame church, quaint in its spire, nestled at the small hamlet of Brule, six miles from the lodge, has been suggested to Mr. Coolidge. This chapel belongs to the Congregational faith, Mr. Coolidge's own religion, and there officiates John Taylor a 70-year-old blind lay minister originally from Duluth.

Offices Ready.

The executive offices were in readiness today for President Coolidge to take up, on his second day in Wisconsin, his usual office routine. Under the supervision of Edward T. Clark, Mr. Coolidge's private secretary, and Rudolph Forster, White House Executive Clerk, the offices provided in the Superior high school were fitted out with the files and documents brought from Washington.

Like Summer Lodge.

The actual residence of Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge at Cedar Island Lodge had, according to reports, fully realized the expectations which had prompted the choice of the summer White House. In addition to being charmed with the unique location of the lodge, its presidential occupants were delighted with the cool temperature they found here in vivid contrast with the heat under which they left the capital.

Under the bright sun which shone all yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge had the opportunity to survey the surroundings of the lodge at their best.

Mr. Coolidge took advantage of the fair afternoon to practice his hand at casting his fishing line from the little foot bridge that connects the mainland to the little island on which the lodge is, and later from Lake Nebagamon, six miles away.

MR. E. LEAGUERS OF DISTRICT IN RALLY LAST EVE

Happy Meeting is Held at First Methodist Church in Dixon

Last evening at the First M. E. Church about two hundred young people representing Epworth Leagues in Sterling, Walnut, Harmon, Erie, Prophetstown, Rock Falls, Amboy, Morrison and Dixon held a sub-district rally. The rally began with a banquet held in the church dining room at 7 p. m. Much enthusiasm was shown in spirited yells during the banquet. The representatives from the different Leagues were grouped together and each League participated in their own yells.

Following the banquet the entire delegation was led in pep songs by Rev. Sittler of Prophetstown. John Dawson, President of the Dixon Epworth League, gave the welcoming speech and Miss Marjorie Heaton, First Vice-President of the Sterling Fourth Street Epworth League, responded. This was followed by a vocal duet of Walnut Leaguers. At this time Rev. Sittler of Morrison introduced Mr. Graham of Mt. Vernon who spoke a few words regarding Cornell College. A musical reading was next given by Miss Margaret McGrady of the Prophetstown League which was enjoyed very much by all. Miss Ruth Palmer of the Fourth Street Sterling League then gave a whistling solo accompanied by herself at the piano.

Rev. Collins Speaker.

Rev. Collins of the Freeport M. E. Church gave the address of the evening. It was humorous and at the same time full of serious thought for the young people. Some of the ideas he expressed in his talk were as follows: The young people of this country were never a fine lot but never was there a greater chance for them to go wrong. This is a day of great discoveries and opportunities because it is an age of question. History is made during times like these because advancement comes when we question things and investigate and make discoveries. Because of the questioning of the youth's mind and his courage to tackle difficulties, youth is the hope of progress. Youth means that there is a chance to grow and the Epworth League is a place for youth to grow properly. Economic problems of our country and the world are challenging us to undo the wrongs done to the oppressed and we should not fear to tackle them and others which go against our ideals. We do not need to defend the creed, faith and ideals of our church but to live by them in a life of service. Because of this, the only initiation of the beginning of a new life. We should not let it go at just becoming a Christian but should make use of this acquiring of new ideals. Our life then should be productive and we should not be afraid to fight and solve the difficult problems that surround us such as racial, prohibition and other economic problems. Christ is with us continually wherever we are while we are crusading for Him.

After the address the delegation was entertained with a musical number by a quartette of Rock Falls Leaguers. Rev. Sittler announced the summer institute of the Epworth League of this district which will be held at the camp grounds in Franklin Grove from July 8 to July 15. Bishop Hughes of this conference will be the speaker Sunday afternoon July 8. After singing the Institute Song the meeting closed with benediction by Rev. Diercks of Amboy.

CHAMPAIGN CO. TAX MUDDLE IS FINALLY ENDED

Atty. Gen. Carlstrom Rules Against Ill. Tax Commission

Springfield, Ill., June 16—(AP)—Champaign County's chaotic taxing tangle was straightened out by Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom today by the simple expedient of advising against the enforcement of a reassessment order of the State Tax Commission.

Asked by William H. Malone, chairman of the State Tax Commission, to take the necessary steps toward enforcing the reassessment order, the Attorney General, after a complete investigation, advised Malone today that enforcement of the order appeared "inadvisable" and "of small likelihood of success."

At the insistence of the Champaign Farm Bureau, which charged inequity between town and farm lands, the reassessment order was made April 4. County officials balked. No reassessment was made, and taxes were collected on the basis of the old assessment. Unless taxes had been collected, all taxing districts would have been bankrupt.

Carlstrom advised Malone that the proper legal action would be application for mandamus to force the assessment officers to comply with the order and "it is doubtful, because of further complications, whether the court would issue such a writ."

He cited three statements of fact as support of his refusal to comply with Malone's request:

Undue delay in entering the order of April 4, with the result that compliance with it would tend to cause disorder and confusion.

One reassessment of four townships has been made; and if another was made it would be "a reassessment of a reassessment, for which no statutory authority is found."

Prior to the April 4 order, the Commission had directed the clerk to extend taxes, which had been done.

OUR FLAG—

So long as that flag shall bear aloft its glittering stars—bearing them amidst the din of battle, and waving them triumphantly above the storms of the ocean, so long, I trust, shall the rights of American citizens be preserved safe and unimpaired.

—Samuel Houston.

O folds of white and scarlet! O blue field with your star! May fond eyes welcome you, and dying lips give you their blessing! Ours by inheritance, ours by allegiance, ours by affection, long may you float on the free winds of heaven, the emblem of liberty, the hope of the world.

Guard well that flag, for faith and hope and better days to be, your flag, my flag, the people's flag, the flag that makes men free.

Home Town of Lou "Henry" Remembers Her in Girlhood

Whittier, Cal.—(AP)—Any resident of Whittier who lived here in the nineties can get a ready hearing nowadays with anecdotes of Lou Henry's girlhood.

For Lou, now Mrs. Herbert Hoover, has become Whittier's most distinguished resident.

Whittier remembers Lou as an enthusiastic young girl in her early teens, living in this Quaker town with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry. She was the eldest daughter, and her father was cashier in the village bank.

Lou, recollections of those days agree, was a natural leader and a girl who inspired loyalty. Pictures are still extant of the girl as Joan of Arc in a grammar grade tableau, garbed in heavy leather gauntlets and shining armor made of bright tin discs.

She liked outdoor sports and athletics despite the fact that exercise was considered not quite ladylike for girls and had to be disguised under the name of "calisthenics." Her mother had a physical instructor come out from Los Angeles several times to give the girls some private lessons.

She and her comrades had literary aspirations, too, and they formed a club for reading and discussion, of which Lou was president. They met at the Henry home on South Painter avenue once a week, and it is chronicled that they started their course of study with Dickens and his Pickwick Papers.

As a girl Miss Henry was fond of hunting, and with a small rifle given to her by her father she roved the low Puente Hills near Whittier, in search of small game. She also developed a penchant for taxidermy.

Always, her neighbors of those days said, she was persistent, but extremely sympathetic and resourceful.

One story deals with the school entertainment at which the girls gave a "drill" with fans and scarves—an exercise not to be referred to as "dancing" in a town which did not approve of dances. One little girl found the steps difficult, and the teacher spoke rather sharply to her at rehearsal.

As the girls left the schoolhouse the girl was crying. Lou Henry put her arm around her and accompanied her all the way home, consoling her.

"Never mind," the teacher was tired and didn't mean half what she said."

It was no surprise to Whittier when Lou Henry Hoover, in womanhood, became the leader of the Girl Scouts.

She went from the town to attend the fledgling Stanford University, and won the first metallurgical degree awarded to a woman at the institution. It was there that she met and married Herbert Clark Hoover, and it is on the Stanford campus that they have their home today.

Wins A. B. Degree; Distinction in English

Dixon has ample cause to be proud of her many bright young people who attend college and graduate with honors. Among them is counted Eugene Vest, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vest who graduates June 18th, from Northwestern University, Evanston, acquiring a Bachelor of Arts Degree, with special distinction in English. Much of the foregoing Eugene takes as a matter of course, but he is justly proud of the fact that he has been elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Society, which is considered a high honor. Mr. Vest is a graduate from the Dixon High School. Next year he intends to take a post-graduate course at Northwestern for his M. A. degree.

The WOMAN'S DAY-ALLENE SAGER

An aged man stumbled through a New York cemetery a few nights ago in order to commit suicide on his wife's grave. He was sick and could not live long, anyway, and living was a misery without her. These things he told the policeman who had followed him and struck the old man's revolver from his hand just as he was about to fire. But attempted suicide was an indignity against the law when it meant the carrying of weapons. The old man was taken to court and sentenced, but put on parole and sent to a hospital.

At first thought one wonders if the law of organized society does not go a little too far when it prevents any individual deciding for himself whether he shall or shall not live. But the old man is probably grateful today. Temporary insanities assails us all.

"LOVE INSANITIES"

The insanities of love manifest themselves more than any other form. The day's news tells of a certain young man shot by another young man because the first young man turned his auto spotlight on the parties of the second and third party who were "necking" in the machine of the party of the second party. Wild animals and birds, too, tear one another asunder when interrupted at their love-making.

The family of a certain Dr. Samuel D. Nutt, of New York, think him a victim of love's insanity because upon his recent death it was learned that he had killed his entire estate of his housekeeper, though survived by a wife and two daughters. The wife remarks that "my wife was ungrateful and lacking in affection, and my two daughters are married and well provided for."

The family races on to the effect that the doctor must have been in love with the housekeeper all these years; that he was killed by undue influence to make the will be did and that it must be broken, of course.

And yet what reason is there to think a man love-insane, or any other kind, simply because he prefers to show appreciation to one who has worked and been considerate for and to him rather than people who because of the mere legal bearing of a name consider themselves natural heirs, regardless of what appreciation they have shown or not shown?

THE DEAD LINE

Another human being was "raised from the dead" by modern science the other day. Little 3-year-old Marion Norton of Lansing, Mich., was restored to life by adrenalin injections five minutes after her heart stopped beating and she was pronounced dead. She is recovering and will live.

Strangely enough, this modern version of "rising the dead" is about the only startling modern innovation in any phase of human living which has not met with opposition on the part of stand-patters who murmur, "It's wrong to tamper with natural laws."

Women suffered in childbirth needlessly for years because one school of thought opposed anesthetics by saying, "such suffering was meant to be; it's wrong to tamper with God's ways." The initial use of cosmetics brought forth the same protest and some people won't wear clothes because they say we were born without them and, therefore, meant to go nude.

But when it comes to human life, no human being is so strong that he can reject the life of a dear one simply because death "seems more natural" and a raising from the dead "unnatural." No one has yet complained.

Miss Bose Presented Beautiful Silver Gift

Officers and employees at the county court house gathered in the county court room yesterday afternoon and provided a very neat surprise for Miss Helen Bose, stenographer in the office of State's Attorney Mark C. Keller, who is soon to become a bride. She is to be married to Earl Eichelberger of Sterling. The solemnity of the court room had been converted into an attractively decorated luncheon nook. Tables were arranged and at the appointed hour, Miss Bose was called to the court room presumably to take testimony in shorthand. Instead she found all of the employees and county officers gathered about the tables. Judge Leech in behalf of the assemblage presented Miss Bose with a beautiful cream and sugar set and server of silver, the guest responding with a very appropriate and clever acceptance. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by the young lady employees of the court house who were responsible for the delightful impromptu affair.

Beautiful June Wedding Today

A very lovely and simple wedding took place this morning at 10:30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wood, when their daughter, Anna Margaret, and Chester C. Clausen of Sterling, Illinois, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Clausen of Hanover, Pennsylv., were married in the presence of twenty-five relatives and intimate friends.

Dr. J. Frank Young, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Dixon officiated. J. Duane Wood, brother of the bride, sang "At Dawning" (Cadmian), immediately preceding the ceremony. Miss Helen Winger being at the piano. Miss Winger played Leechin's Wedding March as the bride entered the room on the arm of her father.

The wedding took place in the living room in a bower of maiden hair ferns and roses. Decorations were carried out in pink, white and blue. The rooms were lovely with garden flowers and tapers. Mr. Wood sang "Oh Promise Me" (De-Koven) and "I Love You Truly" (Bond) after the ceremony.

The beautiful bride was gowned in a charming sleeveless frock of cream silk. De-Spille lace over flesh crepe-de-chine. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, blue forget-me-nots, orange blossoms and maiden hair ferns.

A three course wedding breakfast was served, the color scheme being attractively carried out.

Mrs. Clausen is a graduate of the Dixon High School and for the past six years has been employed as secretary in the Service Department of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company at its General Offices in Dixon.

She has been a very active member in the Presbyterian Guild and has made a large circle of friends in her business and social contacts.

Mr. Clausen is a graduate of Purdue University, LaFayette, Indiana, of the class of 1924, from the School of Mechanical Engineering, and went to Sterling, Illinois, two years ago as inspector with the Illinois Northern Utilities Company during the construction of their central gas plant.

After its completion he was kept as superintendent, which position he now holds. He has made many friends during this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clausen left shortly after noon for Chicago. From there they will spend several days with the groom's parents, Washington, D. C., and other places of interest will be visited before returning.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Re-Heated Food—If a quantity of creamed meat or vegetables is left over, it is a good precaution to re-heat it all whether you use it or not the next day to keep it from souring.

Snappy Sauce—Applesauce that is to be used with pork should be made from sour apples and is much better if a little horseradish is added.

Bacon Sandwiches—Toast the bacon sandwiches served with hot white sauce poured over them. Garnish with shredded peppers.

Dumpling Spoon—Before ladling dough, dip the spoon each time into hot liquid. This avoids a sticky spoon and the dough will slide off easily.

Boiled Eggs—Plunge boiled eggs into cold water and you will find the shells peel off easily.

Fried Eggs—Break fresh eggs into hot fat, add a little water and cover until the whites are set. This is the old-fashioned southern method of frying.

Cigaret Stains—Wood ashes, moistened with denatured alcohol, will move the dark brown stains left by cigarettes on copper or brass.

Grease Spots—Grease spots can be removed from leather with spirits of soft ammoniac. Dab spots carefully with and then wash in clear water.

Erass Andirons—To clean brass andirons, scrub first with hot suds and soda and then scour with bath brick moistened in kerosene. When dry, use any commercial polish.

Corn Meal Cleaner—To brighten carpets and rugs, corn meal dampened with just enough kerosene to soften is excellent. Sprinkle it over liberally and then sweep.

White Spots—To remove white spots on furniture made by hot dishes, use powdered pumice and linseed oil, applied with a soft cloth, rubbed dry and polished with the grain.

Sink Brush—A worn whiskbroom makes a fine brush if you cut off the worn bristles clear up to the stiff part. Always clean after using.

Soap Scraps—Let toilet soap scraps accumulate until they are many. Stand the dish holding them in hot water until they melt. When slightly cool, wet the hands and mould into a bath sized cake.

Secure Hooks—When screwing eyes into the end of brooms, mops and so on, to hang them up, dip the screw into glue before inserting them permanently and they will never come out.

Bent Candles—Candles that have become twisted with heat should be laid in warm place until they are softened, then straightened and put in the icebox.

Bridge Made Easy

INITIAL NO TRUMP BIDS
When you hold three cards in a suit, no matter how small, the danger of the opponents making more than four tricks in that suit is greatly minimized, the probabilities being that the cards are fairly distributed among all the players.

From this we deduce the rule that it is inadvisable to bid a no trump initially if blank in a suit or when holding a singleton or worthless doubleton in one of the suits.

When this is clear, it becomes equally self-evident that if you hold two suits blank, or two suits with singletons, or two suits with worthless doubletons, on any such holding, you ought not to bid a no trump.

A suit is mathematically and surely stopped when it contains the Ace, or any of the following:

K Q
K J 10
Q J 10
J 10 9 8

For the purpose of bidding an initial no trump, a mathematically sure stop is extremely helpful, but it is not absolutely necessary. If, however, you were to postpone bidding a no trump until your hand always contained three suits mathematically surely stopped, you would be passing up many a hand out of which you might reasonably make game.

For the purpose of bidding an initial no trump, the following may be considered probable stoppers as distinguished from the sure stoppers previously listed:

K X
Q J X
Q X X X
J 10 X X
J X X X X

Every sure stopper is obviously a probable stopper, but every probable stopper is not a sure stopper. Stoppers in three suits alone would not justify an initial no trump. You also must hold some high cards and the hand must be worth at least two quick tricks. As an illustration, when you hold:

Q J 10
Q J 10
Q J 10
X X X X

you have three suits stopped. The hand, however, is not worth two quick tricks and you therefore have no bid.

If you hold:

Spades A X X
Hearts A X X
Diamonds K X X
Clubs X X X X

your hand contains two and one-half quick tricks with three suits safely stopped. Yet there are many players who assert this is too weak a holding on which to bid a no trump.

SENATOR NORRIS SAYS CONVENTION IS DISAPPOINTMENT

Says Rank and File of Republicans Have Been Humiliated

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Disappointed with the Republican platform and with the party nominee, Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, in a statement today declared that the action of the Republican convention at Kansas City "will be a sad disappointment to every progressive citizen in the United States."

A "direct slap" had been given the farmers at Kansas City, he said, at the same time deploring silence on the activities of the power interests, disregard of the disclosures made by the investigation of the naval oil leases, and silence as to Boulder Dam, Muscle Shoals, and the "lame duck" Constitutional amendment.

Beginning with Senator Fess, Ohio, Senator Norris made attacks on Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General; Senator Smoot of Utah, chairman of the platform committee; William E. Butler, Bascom Slemp and Irvine L. Lenroot, former Senator from Wisconsin.

"Defended Daughtery"
Senator Fess, the keynoter of the convention, defended Daughtery on the floor of the Senate, he said, and opposed the investigation.

"Mabel Walker Willebrandt, chairman of the important committee on credentials—the committee that was careful to seat all the Hoover delegates from the solid south—while she was Assistant Attorney General of the United States, went to New York to testify in behalf of Daughtery."

"Senator Smoot, who was chairman of the platform committee, and was one of Hoover's lieutenants, was disclosed in the oil investigation to have gone secretly to Paris to apartments to advise with him about his defense."

"When the psychological moment came, it was no other person than Boss Vare, the leader of the Philadelphia political machine—the man who, on account of the disgraceful proceedings in the Pennsylvania primary, was excluded from the United States Senate—it was this same Vare who compelled the Pennsylvania delegation to go solid for Hoover."

"Then there was Bascom Slemp, famous for his handling of Presidential appointments in the solid south and one of the principal cogs in the southern political machine, using his influence, his power, and his knowledge to secure Hoover delegates through the instrumentality of the disgraceful, office-holding, political combinations in the southern states."

"Ex-Senator Lenroot was selected to go to Kansas City and represent him (Hoover) in the contest that came before the convention, he was part of the big Hoover steam roller and when he went there and while he was engaged in putting the Hoover delegates across, his pockets were lined with a $20,000 fee that he had received from the water power trust to lobby before a Senate committee."

"Ranks 'Humiliated'"

"The rank and file of the great republican party will be disgusted and humiliated," he said, "but the power trust, as well as the Hoovers, Daughterys, the Sinclairs, the Dohneys, the Falls, the Smoots, the Maynes, the Lenroots, the Fesses, the Moores and the machine politicians everywhere, will be happy and delighted."

"If this program is endorsed at the polls, it will be the end of the Senate when it reconvenes in December, to apologize to Power Trust Insult and his man from Illinois, for whose election he contributed more than $100,000; to seat Boss Vare, the representative of the Philadelphia political machine; to renege Daughtery; to apologize to Sinclair and Dohney and to pass a law returning them to the property which the Supreme Court of the United States said they had fraudulently obtained; to give a certificate of character to ex-Secretary Fall; to ask for the pardon of Miller, who had been sentenced to the penitentiary; to destroy the incriminating evidence which investigation brought forth of the fraudulent profits of O'Neal and Stewart; to invite Blackmer to return from his hiding place in Europe and to receive him in good society with open arms; to condemn the Supreme Court of the United States for declaring the Fall-Sinclair-Dohney deals were disgraceful and fraudulent; to call upon the Federal Trade Commission to cease its investigation wherein it is disclosing the sinister attacks upon our government by the power trust; and to ask forgiveness for all its activities in disclosing fraud and dishonesty in high official places."

Welcome Signs on State Roads Taboo
Springfield, Ill., June 16.—(AP)—Cities and villages that would erect gateways and brilliantly lighted "welcome" signs across state highways are doomed to disappointment. Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom ruled today.

In an opinion to Frank D. Sheets, chief highway engineer, who inquired whether such gates or signs could be erected, Carlstrom said that "welcome" signs would be considered advertising. Since the statute forbids any signs except highway markers placed by the state, the attorney general said, all others, whether gates or not would be in violation of the law.

Mrs. Hoover Not Only is a Manager of Homes But She Plans Them, Too

Mrs. Herbert Hoover and the two homes she manages are pictured above. To the left is Mrs. Hoover in one of the Oriental doorways of the Palo Alto, California, home which is pictured at the top center. The Washington home of the Hoovers is shown below, and to the right is a recent picture of Mrs. Hoover.

By NEA Service

Stanford University, Calif. — Mrs. Herbert Hoover's ability to manage her household never has been rightly emphasized. It isn't a question which could ever enter one's head while in her house. It just is so perfectly managed that one never senses the wheels of management going around. Not only is the commerce secretary's wife a good manager, but both at her Washington mansion and beautiful Palo Alto home, it is evident she also is a competent planner. She designed the Hoover house on the Stanford campus which was built in 1920. Mrs. Hoover planned the fireplace on the terrace and insisted that the three levels be made "livable." These terraces command a view when the weather is clear, which includes the Campanile at the University of California, 40 miles distant; the long stretch of San Francisco bay, and at night the clustered lights of seven towns. Mr. Hoover's study is the most delightful room in the house and has a single enormous window on each of the two sides of the room; one looks across the campus toward the Golden Gate and Berkeley, and the other framing the end of the bay, its nearby low-lying hills and Mt. Hamilton in the distance.

CONVENTION NOW HISTORY; HALL IN CLEANERS' HANDS

Kansas City is Deserted
Today by Delegates to Big Meeting

BY BRIAN BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer

Kansas City, June 16.—(AP)—The Republican convention is over for everybody but the street sweepers. The delegates, who for four days tried with varying success to find their seats in Convention Hall, are on their way home after nominating Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis for President and Vice President.

The Kansas senator was nominated on the first ballot at the brief final session yesterday afternoon. The vote was 1052 to 34. This was later made unanimous as a roaring welcome went up for the majority Senate floor leader.

Kansas City to which conventions are no novelty is returning rapidly to its usual everyday tasks and watching the street cleaners sweep up the few evidences left of the great political gathering. The shouting is ended, but the arm bands, hat bands, and brass bands, candidates' photographs and recommendations linger until the white wings can do something about it. Plain and fancy sweeping is going on apace and night fall will find the convention city quite itself again.

Before the Rapists Meet Next.

Before the first home-going delegates were on their way the huge convention hall changed its dress. Out came the G. O. P. emblems, the elaborate decorations and the stands

Headquarters Deserted. Today found all the campaign headquarters deserted, the jubilant Hoover workers and hardly less pleased Curtis boosters well content to call it a day. Those in charge of the headquarters of the other candidates have been prepared for several days for the disappointment they carried away with them.

Even the die-hard and bitter-enders seemed reconciled to the turn of the events after it was too late to do anything about it.

The band, cliff dwellers throughout the session of the convention, has come down from the rafters of convention hall where the musicians played to an audience they could not see and never knew whether it was applauding its pieces or something happening on the platform. The band's most heart-felt rendition seemed to be "Auld Lang Syne" to the tune of which the delegates cake-walked out of the hall. The popular "Missouri Waltz" had stirred the band, and "Victory" a song written for the convention, was plugged steadily but in neither was the swing imparted as it was to "Should Auld Acquaintances Be Forgotten."

The convention leaves one problem that may never be solved. What has become of all the assistant Sergeants at Arms? The Sergeants at Arms had more assistants than there were either delegates or newspaper men and there were plenty in both classes.

Osteopaths Allowed in State Hospitals

Springfield, Ill., June 16.—(AP)—Licensed osteopathic doctors may legally practice in any hospital in the state, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom declared here today.

His opinion was sought by State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson of La Salle county, who inquired whether such a doctor could treat patients or could be legally prevented from doing so.

In his reply, Carlstrom declared that the medical practice act in Illinois gave express recognition to "systems or methods of treating human ailments without the use of drugs or medicines." In view of this, osteopathic physicians could not be legally prevented from treating patients in hospitals, either private or public.

HOOVER AWAITING CONFERENCE WITH NAT. COMMITTEE

Will Remain at Head of the Commerce Dept
for the Present

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—For the present at least, Herbert Hoover intends to retain his post as Secretary of Commerce, and if he has formulated any other campaign plans, they remain a closely guarded secret.

Within the next week or so, however, it is expected that Mr. Hoover's program will begin to take on a definite outline, as he consults with party leaders returning from the Kansas City convention and received their advice and opinions on the conduct of the campaign.

On Thursday, a special committee from the Republican National Committee, headed by Ralph Williams of Oregon, is to meet the nominee at the Willard Hotel here, for an expression of his wishes as to the national chairmanship.

Several in Line.
Until this has been done no one will be named to succeed William M. Butler of Massachusetts, the present incumbent. A number of men are in line for the job, including Secretary Work, James W. Good, Claudius Houston, Walter F. Brown, and Williams and Butler.

Just how soon Mr. Hoover will resign from the cabinet and devote his entire time to the campaign today was a subject for speculation.

A brief statement made public late yesterday by the nominee's secretary, George Akerson, and with approval said merely:

"For the present, Mr. Hoover will remain Secretary of Commerce. He will continue his duties in the Department just as he always has done."

May Come Soon.
Akerson refused to be drawn out as to the period of time involved and it may be a matter of weeks, or again, of days.

There was a general understanding, however, that the resignation would be forthcoming within the comparatively near future. While Senator Curtis was being nominated for the Vice Presidency yesterday, Mr. Hoover dispatched to him a message of congratulations.

"I wish you to know," he said, "how greatly I welcome your nomination and your co-operation in the task we have before us. The party is to be congratulated upon your selection."

Earlier in the day he addressed a message of thanks to the convention through its Chairman Senator Moses of New Hampshire, in which he declared his allegiance to the principles set down in the platform which had been adopted.

Another "Revolt" of Farmers Coming

Chicago, June 16.—(AP)—Another "revolt" of farmers is presaged today by the American Country Life Association with the announcement of an old-fashioned debate between dirt farmers and ecclesiastics at the eleventh annual convention to be held in Urbana, Ill., June 19-21.

The debate will be on the question: "Resolved: That the people of the open country should at once take steps to organize the United Church of Rural America." It is under the auspices of the Committee on Religion and Rural Life and will be held on Wednesday, June 20, in the new agricultural building of the University of Illinois.

The committee which conceived the debate is composed of 21 national leaders in rural sociology and is headed by Samuel B. Guard, editor of the Breeder's Gazette, Chicago.

The "Little Brown Church in the Vale," is in serious danger of being nailed up, Mr. Guard said in commenting on the debate. The only thing which can save the rural church, he believes, is an organic union of the farmer congregations into rural community churches, without prejudice to creed or denomination. It is stated that the farmers themselves propose to organize their own united church in the open country, patterned after the United Church of Canada.

ROCKFORD'S 18th SUICIDE OF YEAR IS MAN, AGED 69

Borrowed Ladder from a Neighbor to Hang
Self in Room

Rockford—Borrowing a stepladder from a friend, Magnus E. Anderson, 69, used it to fasten a noose, he had fashioned from a piece of clothesline, to the top of a door frame in his room sometime Wednesday or Thursday and stepped off the ladder to strangle himself to death.

Anderson's suicide was the eighteenth in the county this year.

The body of Anderson was discovered Friday morning by Michael Ward, a painter, who lived across the hall from Anderson in the rooming house.

Ward had loaned Anderson the ladder Wednesday morning. Thursday morning he tried to get the ladder back from Anderson, but was unable to get any answer to repeated knocking on the door. Friday morning, needing the ladder, he made another attempt to reach Anderson. When the aged man did not respond, Ward stepped out onto a roof from which he could see into Anderson's room. He saw the body suspended from the door frame and called the police.

The coroner was of the opinion that Anderson had been dead for at least 12 hours and probably longer.

Out of Work Some Time

Anderson had been out of work for some time and is believed to have become despondent over his condition of living. He lived alone in the rooming house and had no visible means of support.

Anderson was born in Sweden and had lived in Rockford for 40 years. He had been separated from his wife for 22 years and had lived in various rooming houses while he worked at odd times in furniture factories.

That Anderson had contemplated suicide before was indicated by the finding of a rusted 32 calibre revolver between the mattress and springs of his bed. The gun was fully loaded but was in such a condition due to lack of cleaning and care that it could not be fired. Threats to take his life had been made by Anderson many times during the past few years, his acquaintances declared.

Business Activity Better During May

Chicago, June 16.—(AP)—Business activity in Illinois leaped upward during May, infusing a spirit of optimism into the industrial outlook for the summer in comparison to conditions a year ago. Sidney W. Wilcox, chief of the bureau of labor statistics here, reported today.

Factory employment in nine of the leading fourteen Illinois cities was better in some sections of the state, notably Moline and Rock Island, the bureau said, metal product factories have been extremely busy, necessitating a postponement of inventory. Clothing establishments' reports indicate a mixed trend but in meat packing concerns, gains have been frequent.

Unemployment has also diminished as a result of the continued operation of large coal mines and a high volume of building activity in the Chicago metropolitan area.

"Contract awarded to the lowest bidder—"

When a corporation wishes to build a factory . . . when a city constructs a new subway . . . when a large undertaking of that nature is planned, the first step is almost invariably a request for bids on the work. This practice of competitive bidding has saved millions of dollars. It assures the city or corporation of getting the best value for every dollar spent.

The same system can be applied to your own buying. And you can save a proportionate amount of money. How? Simply by consulting the advertising pages of this paper!

When you find yourself in need of a vacuum cleaner, a refrigerator, a pair of shoes, a new suit—anything—don't rush out and buy the first one offered you. Exercise the power of selection that the advertisements give you. Read about each one—what it will do, who makes it, what it costs. Then, when you find the one that best suits your needs and pocketbook, buy it! In this way you'll be spending your money wisely. You'll know what you're getting and how much it costs—before you buy it.

OLD PROFESSOR TELLS OF HELP HE GAVE HOOVER

Dr. Starr Jordan of Stanford Relates Interesting Tale

EDITOR'S NOTE: As Chancellor of Stanford University, Dr. David Starr Jordan, one of America's foremost educators, came into intimate personal contact with Herbert Hoover during the young man's college days. Here are presented Dr. Jordan's own recollections of Hoover, the student-engineer.

BY DAVID STARR JORDAN
Chancellor Emeritus, Stanford University
(Copyright, 1928, NEA Service, Inc.)
Palo Alto, Calif.—When Stanford University was organized in 1891, Herbert Hoover, then 19 years old, was living in Portland, Oregon, and was studying by himself at night in a tiny room at the back of a store where he worked.

I have been told that his Quaker uncle in Salem had charge of funds left him by his parents which he could have had to prepare for the Quaker college at Newburg. But he was determined to go to Stanford and so decided to make his own way and carry out his own plan.

In the summer of 1891, when Stanford was getting ready to open, I asked Joseph Swain, newly chosen professor of mathematics and later president of Swarthmore college, to go through the northwest to hold entrance examinations for students who might want to come our way. In Portland, Herbert Hoover went to see him.

Swain was a Quaker too, and a good one, but he understood why the boy should want more thorough training than he could get at Newburg.

Hoover's Handy Man

Naturally, Hoover's preparation was not adequate for Stanford, but Swain was so impressed with him that he said he would see that he was admitted to Stanford in October with the freshman class if he would come down to Palo Alto and get coaching in subjects where he was most deficient.

Hoover lost no time in reaching the campus. He went to Adelante Villa, a preparatory school for girls which was to be opened on the campus by Misses Lucy Fletcher and Eleanor Pearson, both from the Annex at Harvard.

There Hoover did odd jobs, I suppose, to pay for coaching and for board and lodging. Later when Encina Hall was nearly finished, I assigned him to room 18, and he was the first occupant of the dormitory.

Hoover's ability to get things done soon began to appear. He never had a great deal of extra money but he quickly showed that he knew much more about handling money than most men who had it.

He took a laundry agency and also became a handy man for Dr. Branner in the department of geology. His "college activities" were grouped around his valuable services in straightening out the student body finances, quite a job because nobody here had ever been concerned with such matters.

Hoover's system is substantially the one in use today, a model of order and effectiveness.

After the college fraternities came in, they tried to band together to control the political offices, just as many of them used to do in eastern colleges. There was a time when that seemed to be the prime objective of fraternities.

Their activities at Stanford led to the combination known as "The Big H's," made up of Lester Hinsdale, Herbert Hoover and Herbert Hicks, who together led an aggressive group of "barbarians" which threw the fraternities out of political power on the campus after which college honors were based rather on personal fitness.

As I recollect Hoover at that time, he was a quiet and almost retiring youngster, apparently shy of girls until he met Lou Henry, of Monterey, who took a degree of geology and who married him in 1899. She collaborated ed with him in a monumental work of technical character, the translation of Agricola's "De Re Metallica" from the crabbled medieval Latin.

It is interesting that Hoover should have undertaken this task, because composition was his great stumbling-block at college, at least until he had something to say. I recall that the committee decided to pass him at last in freshman English, mainly because it was claimed that the university could hardly refuse to graduate one who wrote such excellent theses in his major subject and who was reported to be the best student in the department.

In more recent years he has acquired a certain literary finish, but apparently even as an undergraduate he could express himself admirably on a familiar theme.

"Hoover Luck"

One used to hear frequent references to "Hoover's luck." The only "Hoover luck" according to Dr. Branner, is what came by staying persistently with what he was doing, for he found, both in China and in Europe, difficulties of the most discouraging type.

He was bombed by a German in crossing from Belgium to London. He once lost almost his entire fortune (up to that date) through the defalcation of a partner and had to start all over again.

Among mining men he was noted for his ability to buy only those mines that paid in the end.

He knew first how to get the facts about mines, and then he organized those he bought so that they did pay. That ability enabled him to command a very big salary (said to be $100,000 in 1908).

When Hoover was graduated, he was recommended by Dr. Branner to Jules Janin, the mining expert of San Francisco, a Frenchman with an international reputation. Hoover had no knowledge of typing, but he only said that if Janin would let him have about a week's time he would be ready to begin.

Janin agreed and Hoover put in several days preliminary practice on the typewriter and then held down the job to perfection.

That gave him fine contacts with the mining world, and some time later when an English firm wanted an American mining expert to go to Australia, Janin recommended Hoover for the position.

One of the requirements was that the man must not be under thirty-five years of age. Hoover was in his twenties, so on the way to London he grew a beard. When he reported for duty his new employer exclaimed, "How young you Americans look!"

But Hoover made good in spite of his youth, and by the time he was thirty-three his salary as director and controller of many mines seemed to me, unprecedented.

A Great Reader

One distinctive thing about Herbert Hoover is his ability to absorb information. He is a great reader. There is always a pile of books by his bed.

He has gathered about him always men who know their subjects. He has an uncanny ability to sift data and facts from books or from the verbal or written reports of his associates, and to remember them on short notice.

It is this skill in marshaling facts and in selecting and inspiring men which have been the greatest contributing factors in the making of Herbert Hoover.

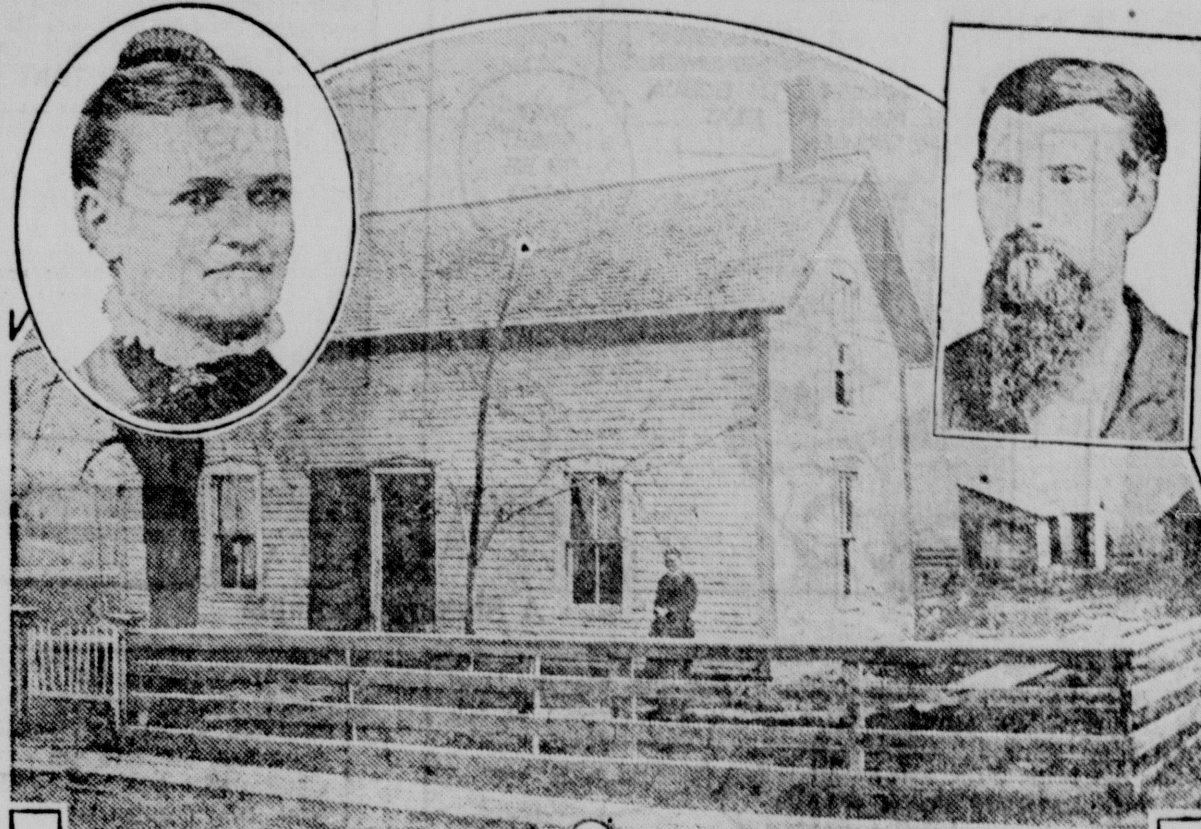

Like many other people, Mrs. Jordan and I remember with great pleasure the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover at the "Red House," their London residence for some years.

When they rented the place, the Hoovers took over a hundred-year lease still containing a clause by which the lessee promised not to allow his cow's "to wander in the lane leading to High street" (Kensington), the "lane" now being Horton street, closely built up on both sides.

A Rallying Place
"The Red House" was a rallying place for interesting people, friends of the Hoovers. For one thing it was a center for mining engineers, especially Americans from all over the world, men who knew Hoover or had worked with him. And most of the English men who came there were exceedingly able.

I don't recall having met a professional politician there at any time.

Hoover's Parents—Old Home

From this humble home at West Branch, Ia., Herbert Hoover fought his way through life's obstacles to one of the most important positions in the national life of his country. Hoover's parents, Jesse Clark Hoover and Hulda Minthorn Hoover, are shown in the inset. This picture is reproduced through the courtesy of Mrs. Mary Van Ness Leavitt, Santa Monica, Calif., Hoover's sister, and is taken from the family album.

"RASPBERRY ICE CREAM"

Measure into a dish, half the contents of an envelope of plain gelatin and add two or three tablespoonsful of cold water to soften. Wash and drain a box of raspberries, crush thoroughly and mix with a half pint of cream. Into another bowl pour a pint of whole milk into which thoroughly mix a half cupful of honey, and add to the berry mixture. Next add the gelatin which has been dissolved over hot water. Stir all together and pour into freezer and freeze until of the desired consistency. The amount makes about one quart.

Other fruits may be used in place of the raspberries, such as figs, peaches, pineapple or strawberries, the amount of money varying with the fruit used. When using peaches or strawberries, do not use the ice cream as a dessert, but as a meal itself.

HOW WE THINK

The human brain is the most complex organ that physiologists have to study. It is the ruler of the body, and, together with the nervous system, is in intimate contact with all growing and functioning parts. The brain is most interesting because it is the seat of that illusive something, "the mind."

The brain is such a very delicate organ that it is protected with a bony covering all for itself in the skull cavity. It is composed of nerve cells and conducting fibres which are intensely complicated and connect the various cells together in such a manner that one stimulating impulse will bring an almost endless chain of associated ideas until some new stimulation attracts our attention.

Most of our conscious thinking is performed with the frontal and upper division called the cerebrum.

Our muscular movements are co-ordinated and made smooth principally by the lower back division of the brain known as the cerebellum or "little brain." Beneath this is a still smaller part known as the medulla oblongata, which tapers into the spinal cord.

The brain has often been compared to a complicated telephone switchboard. But it has the additional faculty of solving the problems that are presented to it by the nerves, and issuing orders that seem most correct to it when it compares the problem to similar ones that have occurred in the past. If the problem is a new one, the brain at least makes an attempt at trying to find a solution. That is the way we learn, first by trying one method after another until we find the correct solution.

Next time you have a difficult problem to solve, just try to keep track of your thinking processes to find out the way the brain continually brings up new ideas and rejects them until at last it finds a solution that it deems satisfactory. Only actual experiment, however, will prove the value of the decision. From this you can see the value of observing carefully, and learning as much as you can, so that the brain will have plenty of information to base its decisions upon. You will not then be likely to make so many mistakes.

You have undoubtedly noticed that all of your conscious thinking is done in word forms. This type of thinking is very handy because it enables us to frame out words before they are spoken. Many people think out loud, and from this you can see the intimate connection between the brain and the organ of speech. Even when you do not make a sound you can feel the vocal cords tighten and relax during word thinking.

When we reach a conclusion without the word process, it is called by various names such as sub-conscious thinking, intuition, and premonition. It seems that in this process, sometimes even parts of the body that are far away from the brain are brought into play as a thinking reflex. This is especially true with all thought that is deeply emotional.

The brain is divided into halves called hemispheres that appear much like each other. The outer part is grey and the inner fibres are white. Since most of the thinking seems to take place in the grey matter, we use the expression "lots of grey matter" to designate a good thinker.

By means of experiments and observation, physiologists have been able to localize the functions of each part of the brain with such accuracy that they can determine almost the exact spot that a tumor, clot, or pressure is located simply by the symptoms of paralysis and mental derangements present.

While the average weight of the male brain is greater than the average weight of the female brain, it has been definitely proven that the size is not an indication of relative intelligence. It seems that the more intelligent, the more convolutions in the grey matter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Interested writes: "I had my tonsils removed three years ago and ever since have had a buzzing in my head and ears which is worse at night when I lie down. Does this trouble come from having removed the tonsils, and what can I do to relieve it? Am 56, and well otherwise."

ANSWER: The entrance to the

Her Picture to "Keep" 100 Years

The girls of 2028 A. D. probably will find this picture interesting. It is a photograph of Miss Florence Wegener, "Miss Cincinnati of 1923," and it was placed in the "century box" of a life insurance company's building addition. The box will be opened Jan. 18, 2028.

ear tube leading to the ear from the throat is sometimes injured by the tonsil operation, but such injury is hard to determine. It may be that the buzzing in your head is caused by the same catarrhal condition that you had before the tonsils were removed.

QUESTION: Mrs. V. C. asks: "Will you kindly publish your method of making Melba toast?"

ANSWER: Melba toast is made by cutting the crust from white bread and slicing the bread a quarter of an inch thick. Dry these slices overnight and toast in a slow oven at least twenty minutes to brown the toast all the way through. It is not sufficient to simply dry the toast, but it must be turned into a golden brown color before it is completely dextrinized. This browning turns the starch into dextrin.

QUESTION: J. P. M. asks: "Will you please say what the final results will be if a person who has been used to an outdoor life, such as farming, is shut off for months from the exercise that such a life gives?"

ANSWER: Of course, the results will be bad if a person who is used to outdoor exercise does not substitute some other kind of exercise such as that which may be taken in a gymnasium. A half hour of vigorous handball, volley ball or regulated calisthenics will give anyone doing sedentary work all of the exercise needed to keep the muscles in good condition.

QUESTION: Discouraged writes: "I have been in bed for some time, suffering from what the doctors call an athletic heart. While I am lying in bed everything seems to be normal, but almost immediately after putting my feet to the floor or by trying to take a few steps, my legs and ankles swell to twice their normal size which makes it necessary for me to return to bed. I am only 21 years of age. Is there a cure or relief from my trouble?"

ANSWER: It is impossible for me to tell you whether you can be cured of your trouble without the opportunity of making a personal examination. Practically all forms of heart trouble are curable, but the treatment naturally varies according to the case. If you will write me again, giving me your name and address, I will be glad to send you some literature I have prepared on this subject.

QUESTION: R. H. asks: "Will you tell me the name of the rosin and wax preparation for removing superfluous hair, and where it can be procured?"

ANSWER: There are many such preparations on the market and I am sure any druggist can supply you. My policy is not to recommend any particular advertised remedy in this column.

QUESTION: Anxious writes: "I am 16 years of age and have always bit my fingernails. Will you please tell me the cause, and cure?"

ANSWER: Nervousness, caused by bad habits and especially improper diet, is the cause of your trouble. Dip the tips of your fingers several times daily in alum water. Every time you start biting your nails you will be discouraged to do so by the taste of the alum. At the same time, start living on the diet I recommend in my weekly menus.

Helen Wills Takes Lead in Tournament

BULLETIN
Wimbledon, England, June 15—(AP)—England's Wightman Cup team of women tennis players today increased its lead over the United States to three matches to one. Mrs. M. Holcroft Watson defeated Mrs. Molla Mallory of the United States in the first of today's matches, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Wimbledon, England, June 15—(AP)—With Miss Helen Wills, the only American to win England's Wightman Cup team for women tennis players, today took a lead of two matches to one over the American holders of the trophy. After Mrs. Molla Mallory had lost to Miss Eileen Bennett of England, 6-1, 6-3, and Miss Wills had defeated Mrs. M. Holcroft Watson, 6-1, 6-2, the English pair of Miss Emyrtrude Harvey and Miss Peggy Saunders defeated Miss Eleanor Goss and Miss Helen Jacobs 6-4, 6-1.

By taking the doubles match today after breaking even in the singles, England gained a distinct advantage which it will endeavor to hold throughout the remaining matches which are scheduled for tomorrow. Four matches are on the program, three in singles and one in doubles. The cup is to go to the team which wins four out of the total seven. England thus needs two more matches if it is to capture the trophy.

The last time the English were successful was in 1925 at Forest Hills in the United States where they won four matches to three.

Watching the Big Scoreboard

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. Louis Cardinals, champions of 1926 and near-repeaters last season, have winged their way to the top of the National League standings.

Two weeks of better than 800 per cent baseball, climaxed by a thrilling 14-inning triumph over Brooklyn yesterday, enabled the Cardinals to climb over the Cincinnati Reds and head the parade in John Haydler's circuit for the first time since the first few days of the current campaign.

Jim Bottomley's thirteenth home run of the season, with two on in the 14th gave Bill McKeechnie's clan its 5 to 2 victory over the Dodgers.

The Reds fought hard to avert defeat at Philadelphia but failed by the margin of a single run, 8 to 7, in a free hitting contest.

The New York Giants subdued Pittsburgh 9 to 1.

Vic Aldridge, traded by Pittsburgh for Burleigh Grimes, allowed only 6 hits and rapped out home run and two singles and scored three runs.

With Hornsby under a five day suspension for his protest against Umpire Pfrman's decision calling him out on strikes, the Boston Braves proceeded to lose their seventh straight game, this time to the Cubs, 5 to 4.

The New York Yankees lost their 11th game of the season to St. Louis 5 to 4, despite Babe Ruth's 24th homer of the year. Otis Brannan's double with the bases filled in the fifth was worth more, in the end, than Ruth's round trip blow which came with one on.

The Philadelphia Athletics cut the Yanks' lead to eight and a half games by pounding out an easy 12 to 5 verdict over the floundering Indians at Cleveland.

Continuing their return to the form expected of them before the season started, Washington made it two in a row over Detroit, 5 to 4, in 10 innings. The Tigers accepting their fifth straight defeat. Sam Rice's double, a sacrifice and Barnes' single scored the winning run in the first extra inning.

Danny MacFayden came within two innings of pitching a no-hit game as the Boston Red Sox beat the White Sox at Chicago, 3 to 1. MacFayden allowed no hits until McFayden singled in the eighth. Three more hits in the ninth scored the White Sox' only run. Regan's homer with Todd on base in the fourth was the blow that decided the issue.

Auto Races Sunday on Rockford Track
With the greatest lineup of cars and drivers ever assembled in this part of the country the Winnebago County Fair Track will be the Mecca for speed and thrill fans on Sunday. With such drivers as Curly Young, Chicago; "Putty" Hoffman, Racine; Emory Collins, Regina, Sask.; Archie Powell, Flint, Mich.; Norse Larson, Norway; Miss Elfrida Mais, Des Moines, Iowa; "Doc" Shannepool, Rockford; Don Vogue, Minneapolis; Swan Peterson, Detroit, and other equally known pilots of the dirt track, new dirt track records may be anticipated before the final checkered flag is dropped at Pec Sunday.

Eastern Candidates for Olympics in Meet

New York, June 16—(AP)—Uncle Sam will get a further line on what he may expect from the east in the way of Olympic material today when 350 athletes display their wares at the Yankee Stadium in the eastern sectional tryouts for the American team which will represent America at Amsterdam this summer.

Black Maria Favored to Win Brooklyn Race

New York, June 16—(AP)—Victorian, Harry Payne Whitney's Preakness and Withers victor, goes to the post in the Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct today—but not as a favorite. That honor is reserved for Black Maria, largely because of Victorian's poor showing in the Belmont when he finished fifth in a six-horse race.

Auto Races Sunday on Rockford Track

With the greatest lineup of cars and drivers ever assembled in this part of the country the Winnebago County Fair Track will be the Mecca for speed and thrill fans on Sunday. With such drivers as Curly Young, Chicago; "Putty" Hoffman, Racine; Emory Collins, Regina, Sask.; Archie Powell, Flint, Mich.; Norse Larson, Norway; Miss Elfrida Mais, Des Moines, Iowa; "Doc" Shannepool, Rockford; Don Vogue, Minneapolis; Swan Peterson, Detroit, and other equally known pilots of the dirt track, new dirt track records may be anticipated before the final checkered flag is dropped at Pec Sunday.

The International Motor Contest Association, the body sanctioning 90% of the automobile race meets in the United States and Canada, has sanctioned this meet and will have representatives at the track to officially record records and data of this meet.

In addition to the purses, points will be awarded towards the annual Dirt Track Crown by the I. M. C. A. This trophy is one of the most coveted and is the title that is possibly more bitterly fought for than any other title in any of the popular sports. When the heavy-footed youngsters and the recognized veterans wheel their machines to the tape, they will be assured of a lightning fast track, as every effort is being made to have the Pecatonica oval in the best possible shape for this event. The recent rains have helped condition of the track and as it contains an element in its surface which tends to absorb water, the rains have not only helped to make it hard but will also tend to eliminate a certain amount of always present dust.

Gates will open at 12 noon with the first event starting at 2:15 p. m.

Athletics for Fair Sex

By Professor Mabel Lee, Lincoln, Neb. Department of Physical Education for Women University of Nebraska

(The following is one of a series of articles prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial as part of its Better Health and Longer Life program. President Coolidge is the honorary president of the Memorial, which has been organized and endowed by prominent doctors and laymen throughout the country to perpetuate the work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 400 No. Michigan, avenue, Chicago.

America is at last learning to take her rightful place as an outstanding leader in the world of women's athletics. But by that it is not meant that we are striving to turn out world's championship teams. Women's athletics are being moulded in America today along other and more worthwhile lines. Health, protection and health improvement are the two great thoughts encompassing our national athletic slogan "Play for play's sake and play for all."

There are many splendid organizations working towards this goal, organizations to whom athletic supremacy means nothing if it is to be gained at the sacrifice of an individual's health interests. The college girl has her Athletic Conference of American College Women composed of the women's athletic associations of the leading colleges and universities in this country. This conference disapproves of intercollegiate athletics for women and seeks to offer in its place a large and varied program to all college women, each college keeping within its campus circle.

The high school girl in many states has her state athletic league which is modeled along the same sane and healthful lines that her older college sister is following. She too, does not go in for inter-school athletics but is working hard to foster athletics for all high school girls, types of activities to interest all, each high school striving for maximum percentage of participation of its own girls and not for supremacy over some other high school.

The older woman in many of our cities has her field hockey club now and is realizing the joys of play carried on into after-school days.

The one great organization embracing all interests for girls and women is the Women's Division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation which is now four years old.

Its main purpose is to inaugurate a national movement for sane and constructive athletics for girls and women of America. Its platform contains very practical planks such as the following:

1. To promote athletics for the majority and not for the limited numbers chosen for their physical prowess.
2. To protect girl and women athletes from exploitation for the enjoyment of spectators.
3. To minimize the emphasis placed in the winning of championships.
4. To countenance never, the sacrifice of an individual's health for the sake of her participation in athletic competition.
5. To promote the adoption of appropriate costumes for all sports.

The women of America propose to have national athletics for girls and women and to have much of them but they also propose to have them controlled by women, coached by women, trained by women, and protected by the medical profession.

Nomination a Pawn Declares Democrat

Chicago, June 15—(AP)—Commenting on the nomination of Herbert Hoover as republican presidential candidate, T. F. Donovan, Chairman of the Illinois Democratic state central committee declared the nomination had become 'a pawn in the hands of two political bosses'.

These two, Donovan asserted, were William S. Vare and Andrew Mellon, whose interest in the nomination he said arose from their anxiety to control "the most notoriously corrupt state in the union."

"A day or two before Hoover's nomination became assured," said Mr. Donovan, "Louis L. Emmerson voiced opposition to the Secretary of Commerce on the ground that his nomination would hurt the republican state and county tickets in the middle west. From this statement it is apparent that Mr. Emmerson has no higher regard for the presidency than have Vare or Mellon. Anyone who will help get out the republican vote in Mt. Vernon or Jefferson county is to Mr. Emmerson an ideal candidate for president. Votes are everything, principles nothing with Mr. Emmerson and men of his stamp."
